The Evening Post.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

Saturday, November 29th, 1873.

We see that a bill has been introduced in the Legislature by Mr. Dudley, to exempt persons from taxation who shall establish factories for the manufacture of State products. It would seem a better provision, if we are desirous of becoming a manufacturing people, to exempt from taxation the property rather than the persons engaged in such enterprises.

The Legislature has adopted a resolution appointing a joint committee to communicate with the Attorney General and obtain an official opinion as to the effect the adoption of the Constitutional Amendments will have, after their official promulgation, upon the duration of the present session. It seems that Governor Caldwell has somewhat disturbed the self-satisfaction of the Legislature. That body adopted an amendment limiting future Legislatures, and now ask if it is to be controlled by its own work! The response made by the people at the August election ought to be an answer to its query.

The proposition to change the second, third and fourth judicial districts of the State, by placing Craven in the second, and lopping Duplin from the fourth and assigning it to the third, does not, it seems, receive the sanction of the Cape Fear Democracy. Another sweeping change is proposed. The suggestion is made to elect the Judges by the State at large, and cause them to hold courts in different districts. It appears hard to suit the opposition. They propose legislation to meet the exigencies of their party as unblushingly as a commander in the field manœuvres his troops to oppose an enemy.

The New York Herald says:

THINGS TO BE THANKFUL FOR.—That Secretary Fish has been prevented by public opinion from making an apology to Spain in the Virginian affair; that Charles Sumner is not such a rabid anti-slavery man as not to tolerate slavery and the Spanish slave power in Cuba; that General Grant loves peace so much as to forego war when it would re-elect him for a third term; that the republican party is likely to lose the opportunity of restoring its fading popularity and perpetuating its power through succumbing to Spanish arrogance and ignoring the cause of Cuban freedom.

Two more of the Tammany thieves of New York city have been brought to justice. While the great Tweed meditates in the Tombs prison whether he shall go to Blackwell's Island, or the more comfortable Ludlow street jail, Ingersoll and Farrington have been convicted by jury of good men and true, of forgery.

Judge Davis is, we believe, a Democrat. But in all these trials, in which he presided, he has shown himself to be the friend of law and justice. He has not followed in the footsteps of such Judges as Barnard and Cardozo, who brought into disrepute the position they held; but the fearless discharge of his duty in the face of corruption, intimidation, and swagger, ranks him among the ablest upholders of judicial purity.

Revised Statutes.

The entire statute law of North Carolina has been systematically arranged in book form by Hon. K. P. Battle, who was appointed by the Legislature for the purpose. The book contains, besides all the laws in the old Revised Code, such statutes as have been passed since, not in conflict with the State Constitution of 1868 or the Constitution of the United States. The different acts of Assembly are arranged in such manner that they can be easily referred to and by acts of the Legislature this will be the acknowledged code of the State. The Revised contains the Constitution of the United States, Constitution of N. C. the Declaration of rights, the acts of Congress May, 26th 1790, and the acts supplementary thereto of March 27th 1894. The appendix contains the amendments to the State Constitution adopted in August last. Every lawyer should have one or more of Judge Battle's Revisals as should also Sheriffs, Superior Court Clerks, Registers of Deeds, and in fact every citizen who desires to be acquainted with the civil and criminal laws of the State. The book was printed and bound by Messrs. Edwards & Broughton of Raleigh, and is gotten up in the best style.—Era.

Minnesota comes forward with four sisters who have run a 200 acre farm all alone for the last five years, during which time they added $1,500 to their bank.

The bluster and insolence of the Cuban newspapers in the terrible condition in which their teachings have driven on their country, would be laughable, if they were not painful. They remind the reader of the rhodomontades in the French Convention during the Reign of Terror. Madness seems to rule the hour, and to judge from the altitude of these pugnacious editors, Spain can defy the world in arms.

The Civil Rights Convention held in Raleigh on the 26th inst., adopted the following resolutions in reference to Cuba. It will be seen from the ultimatum of the United States, to Spain, that the fifth demand is the abolition of slavery in Cuba. This would be considered a satisfactory guarantee against the repetition of further outrage:

WHEREAS, The people of the United States are filled with indignation and horror because of the brutal execution in Cuba of thirty-seven officers and men of the American steamer Virginian, captured by Spanish authority on the high seas, and murdered, in cold blood, by the same authority; the victims of these butcheries being struggling patriots and Cuban sympathizers, endeavoring, by the means in their power to assist in emancipating the island from the yoke of slavery.

Resolved., That the butcheries of the Spaniards belong to a past age, and while all the world advances in civilization and humanity they alone indulge in the atrocities of barbarism.

Resolved., That justice and humanity demand that slavery should no longer exist in the island of Cuba, and that it is the wish of the colored people of North Carolina, through their delegates in this Convention assembled, that one of the first things Congress should do, when it assembles next month, is to recognize the belligerent rights of Cubans in their struggle for independence; and this Convention, representing the sentiments of the colored citizens of North Carolina, offer to the struggling patriotic Cubans their sympathy and their moral and religious support.

Resolved., That Spain ought not to be permitted to maintain her authority in Cuba, by measures which civilized nations regret as being atrocious; and in the cause of humanity and good government, the United States should extend their sympathy and power over that island.

Resolved., That the blood of the Virginian martyrs has not after all, been shed in vain; for the result may bring independence to Cuba, the last remnant of Spain's vast domain, an island long clung to by the power of her strong arm, but a source of weakness to that power; that the atrocities of late are the outcroppings of the infamous slave system, the aristocratic slave lords of Cuba being the ones who are using every endeavor to repress freedom in that country, murdering republicans in cold blood wherever they get them in their power. We pray that God will not let this last always! The march of progress is onward, and even Spaniards must give way to its overpowering influences.

Hard Times—A New York Market Report of 1840, which will do for 1873.

The following clipping from a magazine of Oct. 1840, is not only interesting for the ingenuity of its puns, but for the curious parallel it presents with events twenty-three years thereafter:

STATE OF THE MARKET, WALL STREET.—The board of brokers is shaved very thin; its condition now is nearly transparent. Our current notes are uncertain, and now are often counted than discounted. Brokers are now breakers, and many a floating capital has been sunk in them. It was proposed at meeting of merchants, a few days since, that a petition be presented to the common council to change the first letter of the street from a W to an F.

Dealers in hardware say they never found things so hard as now; tin plates are flat, lead heavy, iron dull, spales not trumps. Brass is, however, in demand for politicians; brads are also in request, but holders cannot be got to fork them out. Nails wont go by pushing, and have to be driven.

The dry-goods merchants say that their cases are hard, and complain that people prefer the bank rags to theirs.

In paints everything looks black, though many attempt to varnish the thing over.

Shippers of ashes have had to add sackcloth to them, as prospects are by no means pearly, and prices are going to pot.

Timber trade is pinning, and holders have to rest upon their oars to stave off the pressure.

Holders of indigo look blue, but those deep read are not green enough to think that a symptom of the trade dying.

Starch is stiffening and paper is stationary. In the meal market things are flowery, but the millers say the high price of wheat goes against their grain, at which the bakers are also crusty.

The grocers have got along pretty gingly, but some having tasted a spice of the times have become peppery.

There is no life in dead hogs, but some animation in cheese.

A Catholic lady of Hamburg has bequeathed sixty thousand thalers to the heads of the Jewish congregations of that city to distribute in charities, as an evidence of the faith she has in their uprightness, after investigating through a long life the doctrines and creeds of all nationalities.

Half the women who now appear on the streets of Nashville, and probably of Memphis also, are dressed in mourning.

An Irish paper mentions the case of a Dublin girl who fell in love with her brother, and committed suicide in consequence.

EDITORIAL BUDGET.

Somebody, who signs himself G. T. P., has written a letter from Westmoreland county, Penn., to the mayor of Philadelphia, in which, in view of the approach of "the season for destination," he proposes to furnish coal for all the poor of the city and for the steam fire engines for the present time and during this and the next century, the only expense being that of transportation, which will be about three cents per bushel. This payment he offers to take in installments, one being payable every ten years. He says that about seventeen years ago he purchased for almost nothing a tract of land in Westmoreland county, which has since turned out to be filled with bituminous coal, and if the terms which he offers to dispose of this coal are acceptable, he will send his full name and address to his Honor.

The following is the copy of the so-called "diplomatic memorandum," transmitted to Gen'l Sickles as our ultimatum. It will be seen that it gives the demands more fully and specifies the guarantee required by the fifth clause:

First.—The formal delivery of the Virginians to officers of our government in a port of the United States.

Second.—The release and restoration to our protection of the surviving captives.

Third.—A money indemnity to the heirs of all taken on board the Virginians and put to death.

Fourth.—The trial and punishment of General Burriel and all other responsible officers.

Fifth.—The immediate and unconditional abolition of slavery in Cuba as the source of all the pending difficulties and complaints.

The New York Evangelist thus explains the origin of the application of the word "blue" to Presbyterians:

"Some contend that it originated from the blue flag carried by the Presbyterian forces, or the blue watch-fires of the Covenanters." But Dean Stanley, in his lectures on the history of the Church of Scotland, says: "The distinct dress of the Scotch Presbyterian clergy was a blue gown, and a broad blue bonnet. The Episcopalian clergy, on the other hand, either wore no distinctive dress in public services, or else wore a black gown. From this arose the contrasting epithets of 'Black Prelacy' and 'True Blue Presbyterianism.' Several of our ministers in this city wear very dark blue gowns."

Query.—Could the Dean of Canterbury, after his irregular fraternizing with our Presbyterian brethren, be fairly described as "black and blue?"

We have no traveling agents.

It is a first rate newspaper. All the news will be found in it, condensed when unimportant, at full length when of moment, and a way presented in a clear, intelligible, and interesting manner.

It is a first rate family paper, fast and exciting reading of every kind, but containing nothing that can offend the most delicate and scrupulous taste.

It is a first rate story paper. The best tales and romances of current literature are carefully selected and legibly printed in its pages.

It is an independent political paper, belonging to no party and wearing no color.

Fights for principle, and for the election of the best men to office. It especially devotes its energies to the exposure of the plots and intrigues of the wicked and disgraceful in our country, and threatens to undermine our institutions altogether. It has no fear of knaves, and asks no favors from their supporters.

It reports the fashions for the ladies and the markets for the men, especially the cat-marks, to which it pays particular attention.

Finally, it is the cheapest paper published. One dollar a year will secure it for any subscriber. It is not necessary to get up a club in order to have THE WEEKLY SUN at this rate. Any one who sends a single dollar will get a pair for a year.

THE SOCIALE SUPPER of the Presbyterian ladies at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, last night,
was a most pleasant and enjoyable affair. We looked on in the happy throng and met with a most delightful reception. No sooner had we passed the fair doorkeeper than we found fair faces, and plenty of them to welcome us—to
take our hat and coat and bestow them
on appropriate hooks, and other fair hands and smiling faces to conduct us
to a chair at a table where we found many other hungry mortals like ourselves. Of course we had no choice but to make a beginning on oysters—(we like oysters)—and have a cup of most delicious coffee, with no stint of sure enough cream to put in it, and such white, beautiful home-made bread as only Wilmington ladies can make. And then the pretty waiters with their little bills of fare, and the cakes, ices and jellies, and the fruits, flowers and faucies wrought by fairy fingers, and
more pretty waiters with more fairy fingers, (and they always make the exact change and don't gouge a cent,) and everything was as nice and pleasant as could be.

WE were informed that quite a satisfactory sum as realized, and that the ladies have determined to keep up these monthly entertainments during the Winter, and that they are arranging for something of the kind, to be very nice indeed, to come off on the Tuesday night before Christmas.

OPERA HOUSE.—The Chapman Sisters drew a fine audience last night,
and, judging by the shouts of laughter,
we presume every one was amused. The Sisters, Misses Blanch and Ella, were not as well supported as before, though their local hits were very amusing. The younger sister, Miss Belle, is, also, very charming and sings sweetly. Tonight is their last night, on which will be produced the new burlesque, called Lolita,
and Leo.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, corner of Market and Fifth Streets—Elder J. C.
Hiden, pastor.—Sunday, November 30, 1873.—Services at 11 a.m., and 7½ p.m.
Sunday School at 9 a.m. Prayer meeting Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock.

THE SOCIALE SUPPER of the Presbyterian ladies at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, last night,
was a most pleasant and enjoyable affair. We looked on in the happy throng
and met with a most delightful reception. No sooner had we passed the fair
doorkeeper than we found fair faces,
and plenty of them to welcome us—to
take our hat and coat and bestow them
on appropriate hooks, and other fair
hands and smiling faces to conduct us
to a chair at a table where we found
many other hungry mortals like ourselves. Of course we had no choice but
to make a beginning on oysters—(we
like oysters)—and have a cup of most
delicious coffee, with no stint of sure
enough cream to put in it, and such
white, beautiful home-made bread as
only Wilmington ladies can make. And then the pretty waiters with their little
bills of fare, and the cakes, ices and
jellies, and the fruits, flowers and
faucies wrought by fairy fingers, and
more pretty waiters with more fairy
fingers, (and they always make the exact change and don't gouge a cent,) and
everything was as nice and pleasant as
could be.

WE were informed that quite a satisfactory sum as realized, and that the
monthly entertainments during the Winter, and that they are arranging
for something of the kind, to be very
nice indeed, to come off on the Tuesday
night before Christmas.

OPERA HOUSE.—The Chapman Sisters drew a fine audience last night,
and, judging by the shouts of laughter,
we presume every one was amused. The Sisters, Misses Blanch and Ella, were
not as well supported as before, though
their local hits were very amusing. The younger sister, Miss Belle, is, also, very
charming and sings sweetly. Tonight
is their last night, on which will be produced the new burlesque, called Lolita,
and Leo.
